SUNFLOWER STATE

NAMES OF MEN AND WOMEN WHO CAME FROM THE FAM- OUS PROHIBITION STATE

Citizens of Glendale who formerly resided in Kansas speak well of that state. They are proud of her fertile lands and they are proud of her well-balanced minded people. Kansas has been a state noted for remarkable successes. The grasshoppers and the hot winds discouraged many farmers twentyfive and forty years ago, and on the other hand the abundant wheat and corn crops have been the means of making many farmers immensely rich.

Kansas voters have given loyal support at various times to the prohibition question, the greenback movement, the populist doctrine and the free silver theory. The Kansas citizens have been of an analytic nature, always wanting to know the whys and wherefores.

The destructive grasshoppers long since ceased to ravage the crops, the hot winds have ceased to blow and the political "isms" have crystallized into views represented by such statesmen as White and Allen. Bleeding Kansas of Civil war times is now prosperous Kansas. Following are the names of people in Glendale who represent that great state of prosperity:

MEETING POSTPONED

The regular monthly meeting of the Baraca Society of the M. E. Church has been postponed from Thursday evening, November 4, to Monday evening, November 8. Announcement by Frank Matthiesen, president of the society, that he has an announcement of much interest to all members should result in a large attendance at the forthcoming meeting.

AZUSA'S POWDER FACTORY

The little city of Azusa is to have a powder factory that will cost, when completed, about $19,000. The capacity of the plant will be 1,000 pounds daily, which will give employment to 20 men. One-half of the out-put will be loaded into shells. The substances entering into the composition of the explosive will all be procured in California.

An Oregon municipal judge fined himself for speeding. But he mercifully suspended his jail sentence.

VISIONS OF FUTURE

IMAGINATIVE CROOK ENDOWS GLENDALE WITH COLLEGE AND 120 TEACHERS

Sometime in the future Glendale may have a large college, with 120 teachers and $500,000 endowment. That would be a great thing for the city and would put Glendale on the map in indelible colors. That, however, is a thing of the future as far as reality is concerned. An ingenious crook, not content to wait until such conditions should become a reality, imagined the plan might be turned to present profit. He went, to Hubbard, Oregon, and called on all the likely families there with a tale of a great college in Glendale, which it would be of immense value to their sons and daughters to attend.

To this end the prophetic soul began to sell books, which, he stated, would be of immense value in preparing the youth of Hubbard for entrance to this wonderful college of Glendale. He also had a large variety of choice scholarships to sell, suited to the needs of all scholastic tastes.

For some time all went well with the young man. He sold numbers of books and made friends right and left in Hubbard. The trusting inhabitants of that charming spot placed great faith in the representations of the representative of "Los Angeles University, Glendale, Cal." They feted him and praised him and admired him and gave the freedom of the city.

Some time, however, after this system of selling scholarships and books had been going on, a native of Hubbard thought fit to make inquiries into the status of the great college and found to his amazement that none of those of whom he inquired had any knowledge of such an establishment. This gave rise to further queries and search, with similar result.

Finally the people who had been living in this educational paradise looking forward to the opening of the session when their children might go forward to the great scene of modern learning, thought fit to have an interview with the police of Hubbard. That active department immediately wired to Glendale police department, stating the circumstances under which this curious campaign had been pursued and asking for information concerning the supposed college. Had a bombshell fallen into the midst of Hubbard it could not have produced greater effect than the answer that was wired collect by Patrolman Laurence to the department at the Oregon city—"No such institution known here." Further developments in the situation are awaited with interest in Glendale.

UNCLE SAM GIVES THE STOMACH MORE PROTECTION

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 1.—New and drastic meat inspection rules, for protection of the American stomach, are in effect today. Their operation began officially, yesterday, but packing houses and abattoirs were not affected until today. Destruction of diseased animals by U. S. meat inspectors before they enter the slaughter house is one of the new rules. Heretofore affected animals were slaughtered on the same killing floor with healthy animals and were not condemned until later.

Violation of the meat inspection laws is made punishable by a new penalty of withdrawal of government inspection, putting the offending concern out of interstate commerce. A new rule in favor of the packers is that permitting them to sell "second class" cooked meat, providing it is so labeled after sterilization. Sale of raw pork in summer sausage and other forms for eating without cooking is prohibited. Drastic new sanitary regulations for slaughter houses is another feature of the new regulations in effect today.

THE ROSSON'S SURPRISED

An enjoyable evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Rossion, 318 Everett St., Saturday evening. The affair was a surprise on the host and hostess. The guests were: Professor DeAdams of New York, who is spending a short time looking up old friends in the city—he was a schoolmate of Mr. Rossion; Miss Teresa Hiler, Mrs. Clara Moore, Mrs. I. D. Brown, Mrs. Albert Jolly of city; also Miss Jane Hamilton of San Francisco; Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Rheinhardt of Imperial; George Rowe of Glendale; Miss Ruby Fox of San Pedro, and Mrs. I. C. Rice of 1632 Ruth St., Casa Verdugo.

Refreshments were served, pink and white being the predominating colors. Music and games were enjoyed by the guests.

Let's keep on being consistently neutral as to the European war.

REPORT OF DAIRIES

INSPECTOR H. W. HOLLENBECK VISITS TWENTY-FIVE MILK ESTABLISHMENTS IN GLENDALE

In accordance with the health requirements of the State, the City of Glendale on Sept. 1 appointed Patrolman Henry W. Hollenbeck sanitary and dairy inspector for this center. The new inspector entered on active duty Oct. 1 and since that date he has been busy in his new sphere. During the month of October Inspector Hollenbeck has visited and reported on 25 milk establishments in the City of Glendale.

"On the whole," said Inspector Hollenbeck, "I have found a general readiness to comply with the requirements of the law on the part of all the different parties owning and operating dairies and those also engaged in the selling and distributing of milk."

"There have been, as one would naturally expect, quite a number of matters that needed rectification. Some of the establishments were scarcely up-to-date as far as the requirements of the law were concerned; but wherever there was need of change changes were made at once and the law's demands fulfilled."

"There are strict rules which govern the sanitary and dairy inspector's report. He is required to keep a detailed score of each establishment and according to the markings of this score card the establishment is rated. The first part of this score is concerned with the establishment's equipment. It must be stated what is thought of its location; whether it is convenient for the use to which it is put; then as to its surroundings. For instance, it is not desirable that a dairy should be located close to sources of possible milk pollution. The proximity of cesspools with regard to water supply has also to be taken into consideration."

"The establishments must have proper rooms and proper conveniences for the handling of the milk. Due regard is given to the construction of the buildings. If of brick or concrete they would rank high. It is highly desirable in a dairy that the floors be of concrete and that the ceilings and walls be properly plastered and kept in a sanitary condition. Then the question of light is of great importance. The buildings must be sufficiently lighted and ventilated and also screened for protection of the animals from flies and the milk from possible infection from various sources."

"All machinery and utensils must be kept in a thoroughly sanitary condition. Steam or hot water is necessary for bottle and can washing. It is necessary to report on all these points and to state the condition of bottling machines, racks, crates, sinks, pasteurizers and of the rooms where the milk itself is stored."

"In many cases some point or other is neglected. That is immediately ordered set to rights and the score card marked in accordance with the conditions found to exist. The milk wagons are inspected as to fitness for the purpose of distribution and the condition in which they are kept. The salesrooms are inspected and reported on as to construction and equipment. Marks are given for the greater or less perfection of all these matters and deductions made for bad conditions."

"An inspection of the methods of handling the milk, the cleanliness of the establishments and of the machinery, the pasteurizing, the bottling and the storage, etc., constitutes the other half of the score card. Perfection would mean 100 points for each of the sections and allowances are given as conditions suggested. The score for methods is multiplied by 2; the score for equipment by 1; the total is divided by 3 and the two scores are then added for the net result. On the whole the Glendale dairies are in good condition and what is not according to requirements will be rectified quickly. Some dairies are in first-class shape and have even introduced patent milking machinery, while the floors, gutters and even the stanchions are of concrete."

BOY FINDS BLANK CHECKS

A 15-year-old boy named Adams, residing in Monrovia, got a notion to speculate in signing forged checks a few days ago. While cleaning up rubbish in a Monrovia home he found two blank checks. One he filled out for the amount of $5.75 and the other for $6. He successfully got one cashed, but was held up on the second. He was taken to the police court to be given an opportunity to explain his actions.

Denying that death sentences have been passed ceases to be effective after the sentences have been executed.

PROFIT IN GARDENS

MONTE VISTA BOARD OF TRADE ISSUES MONTHLY BULLETIN OF WHAT TO PLANT

Under the direction of M. V. Hart-rant of Littlelands, the Monte Vista Board of Trade issues a monthly bulletin of what to plant, for the benefit of the settlers in Littlelands and Monte Vista and also for the general public. This bulletin shows from month to month what work should be done in the gardens and the quantity of seed or plants to use for each person in a household. Under this system many people are finding it possible to live comfortably on the produce of small pieces of ground and are at the same time enjoying a healthful and pleasant life outdoors in the fine California climate.

The Monte Vista bulletin gives full cultural directions for each species of vegetables and tells the best varieties to plant, giving also the times of ripening. The bulletin also contains minute directions as to the troubles that affect different vegetables and how to overcome them. The handling of the scale trouble and of insect pests is entered on sufficiently. Systems of manuring and preparing liquid manure are given. Here you will find directions for pruning and for cultivating various profitable vegetables that may be grown instead of the ordinary varieties.

What should be of vast interest to those in Glendale interested in gardening are the suggestions for local gardening clubs, which are advised to practice the exchange of experiences and the exchange of seeds and plants. They are also advised to have one member of a club buy all the supplies needed for the members at a seed store each week and then distribute the seeds or plants to each individual. This makes for economy and saves time.

In connection with the profit in gardening Mr. Hart-rant in an article he wrote recently for the Los Angeles Times, which he has also had reprinted for distribution, tells interestingly how a family in Pasadena on a lot 80x175 feet raised in one season $168.46 worth of fruit and also $64.53 worth of vegetables. This was done by cultivation in spare time. In addition to this the garden produced 7,000 carnation blossoms and a great many lilies, pansies and other flowers. The crops were rotated so that nothing was wasted. As many as three crops were raised on some of the ground.

It is stated in the article that this method of utilizing a small garden will help to reduce the high cost of living. It is also shown that it is cheaper to raise vegetables than to buy them. On the lot in question the total expense of cultivation amounted to $20, which left a net balance from vegetables and fruit of $213.09.

The article concludes: "If in our Southern California cities each owner of a home would cultivate his ground, the cities' officers would see that every vacant lot is cultivated, the cities themselves would be very much improved in appearance and those deserving and needing employment would be benefited."

WOMEN'S CONVENTION WON'T TALK SUFFRAGE, PEACE OR RELIGION

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 1.—Women of every race and creed; women of every walk of life, suffragists and anti-suffragists, neutrals and belligerents, unfurled here today the banner of mutual tolerance.

Under the auspices of the International Congress of women, these delegates from almost every land on the globe opened their six-day convention, under an iron-clad agreement not to talk suffrage, peace or religion. There was, however, plenty of talk.

Church women, Red Cross and charity workers, society women, modern clubwomen, foreign women were here. Pan-American day will be one of the big features of the congress. The women will try to establish more of an entente cordiale between the women of North and South America.

"We are going to see if we cannot overcome prejudice between the Latin American and the Anglo-Saxon American," explained Mrs. F. H. Col-bun, who is in charge. "We stare and bristle at each other like quills on a porcupine. The Latin-American woman smokes, but does not go on the streets without a chaperone. The Anglo-American woman (that is, the most of her) does not smoke, but she goes and comes where she pleases. Each hold their social customs against the other."

SIERRA MADRE'S FLOWER FETE

Sierra Madre, the city of flowers, will hold a flower show Thursday and Friday of this week. Many Glendale people have been in the habit of visiting these flower displays.

NEW MINISTRY IN FRANCE

France, in the midst of the war, has changed her ministry. There were various reasons for this change. Some of those who resigned were feeling the hard work that has been imposed upon them ever since the war began. They are perfectly loyal to France and determined that the Republic shall endure to the end; but they have not been able to stand the strain. Delcasse for instance, is not a young man. He has borne the burden and heat of the day long ago and was in the midst of exciting events when much of the present population of France was in its cradle or even non-existent. So it is with others. The strain of the war has been too great for most of them.

One need not wonder at that. It has been the same in Germany. The Kaiser has removed many of his administrative officials from office since the war began and has "promoted" others to sinecures. He has even changed repeatedly his officers in the field though the change has often escaped notice. As a matter of fact a great war such as that now going on is a very heavy mental and physical burden. Most of the men who have resigned in France have had relatives killed in the war and they are themselves suffering from the blows of bereavement. In England, Sir Edward Grey is said to be on the point of collapse from severe criticism and from the heavy burdens of his office. So it is everywhere. Yet there are strong men who are upholding the burden of each country and who never despair. These men deserve to be rewarded as Rome rewarded her consul who refused to "despair of the republic" even in the dark hours of her defeat by Hannibal at Cannae.

Premier Viviani of France has set an example to his countrymen by taking the office of minister of justice in the new cabinet. He is content to serve his native land in any capacity so long as he can serve her. The new cabinet is a curious mingling of young men and old men. It would seem as though France were to try the experiment of having the energy of youth balanced by the sobriety and cool judgment of experience and age. De Freycinet, vice-president of the cabinet, is 87. Emil Combes, who serves without a portfolio, is 80. Ribot, minister of finance, is 78. These men were all in active political life at the time of the Franco-Prussian war.

Joined with these men of experience are Premier Aristide Briand, a young man; Viviani, the premier of the late cabinet, who is loyally working with his colleagues to save France. Gallieni remains at the ministry of war and Admiral La Case takes the ministry of marine. This is a formidable combination. It will undoubtedly push the war in the trenches and is likely to handle the diplomatic situation in a more forcible manner than its predecessor.

Above all, the new men may be relied on to silence all the subtle talk of peace that certain belligerents put forth at all times and are putting forth more diligently at the present moment than ever. There is also Roumania and Greece to handle and both countries need a diplomatic and a firm hand to manage them. There is a strong feeling in France as in Britain that the diplomatic situation in the Balkans has been very sadly mismanaged. Whether this is right or wrong there is no doubt that Germany, with three Germanic sovereigns on Balkan thrones, has been able to manipulate those countries greatly to her own advantage. France expects to see a change in this as in other particulars, now that the new ministry has taken the reins of the nation in hand.

CRISIS IN THE WAR IN EUROPE

There have been several crises in the war in Europe. There is one now. Hemmed in on all sides and unable to break out the Germanic allies have chosen to initiate a new plan of campaign, which deserves credit for its originality and daring. The first step in this plan of campaign was successfully carried out when Germany persuaded the czar of Bulgaria, Ferdinand, to throw in his armies with those of the central allies in an attempt to smash a way through Serbia to Turkey.

This first step has brought a conjunction of Austrian, German and Bulgarian troops into Serbia and that devoted country is apparently to be sacrificed to the plan to reach Turkey. Britain has sent a small body of troops to help the Servians and is prepared to send a still greater army; France is doing likewise and Russia will follow suit the moment she can. The question is whether or not they will be in time.

That constitutes the crisis. Meantime the Servians are bravely fighting the invaders; showing a bold front to the Germans and Austrians; while the Bulgarians, false to their treaties, are stabbing their Serbian brethren in the back. It is another case of Belgium with this difference, that the Servians are fighting in a country that is much easier to defend than were the flat fields of Belgium and that the invaders are paying a terrific price for any success they may be achieving.

INCOMPETENCE IN RUSSIAN HIGH PLACES

If anyone were to seek out the causes of the debacle that has struck Russia it would be necessary to seek them in high places. Russia has an excellent army. The human material of the army is as good an element as can be found anywhere. When properly led the Russian soldier is a lion—powerful in advance, unbeatable in retreat. No army, however, can withstand mismanagement within itself. It is said that when the Russians took Kovno they found nine forts and twenty new batteries recently supplied with new cannon. The hillsides were storehouses of ammunition. There was nothing of the "empty shell" about what the Germans found there. These valuable stores were left behind without any attempt to destroy them.

It is now said that treachery was responsible for this neglect. What is the world to think of an army where such treachery prevails or what is it to think of an army where incompetence reigns on such a colossal scale—if this is really incompetence. There is no such incompetence in the German army. There everything is economized except ammunition when it is on the firing line.

When Kovno was left by the Russian troops, the 25,000 inhabitants were left behind without provisions. Every store in the city had been plundered and what could not be carried away was destroyed. There was apparently time to complete this work of destruction while there was no time to destroy the ammunition.

It is also asserted by the Germans that among the debris left behind by the Russians were empty champagne bottles and empty liquor cases, which they say were as thick on the ground as the abandoned guns. The guns in the forts were not only not destroyed, but the locks were left in them, though they could easily have been carried away. They were also in excellent condition, oiled and well-kept, ready for use. Less than 30 per cent of the fortifications had been touched by German gun fire. Some of the batteries that were abandoned had never been fired at.

Russian prisoners were captured in great numbers because it is said that when the order to retreat comes the Russian officers abandon their men and leave them to shift for themselves. There is ample room for reform in the czar's army.

NEWSPAPERS ON STREET AND VACANT LOTS

It is not often the Evening News feels urged to speak out so plainly that some one will feel hurt from the blow, but in the instance of newspapers being scattered broadcast on Brand Boulevard, and allowed to be carried by the wind to vacant lots and there lodge against rocks and weeds, making an unsightly appearance to all who pass by, somebody who is responsible for this condition of affairs should be severely criticised.

The vacant lots on the west side of Brand Boulevard between Second and Third streets are the lodging place for hundreds of newspapers strewn about in every manner. The pink sheet, the green sheet, the comic sheet, are all stranded on weeds, and other papers collect against those already there.

There should be a remedy that will prevent this gross carelessness on the part of untidy citizens and thoughtless newsboys and their employers.

The man or woman who casts a newspaper or any portion of one on the public street has truly no regard for neatness and should be severely reprimanded for such carelessness.

Talking about this deplorable condition will not work a remedy. The strong arm of the law must come forward and speak out in plain language, "You must not do this." and if that does not call a halt to the nuisance, the offender should be placed under arrest, conducted to the police station, and given an opportunity to explain why he persists in being so careless. If there is a city ordinance prohibiting the scattering of newspapers on the streets, it would be a good plan for the police force to get busy and see that such an ordinance is enforced, and if there is not such an ordinance, there should be one adopted at the earliest time possible.

Men of Glendale, who have some pride, get busy and put a stop to this nuisance. Do not talk about how bad it looks, but report the first offender in this respect and have him learn that he cannot mar the appearance of an otherwise clean city without paying the penalty.

BROKE HER PROBATION

Jenny Jones, who has been in Glendale for some time on probation from the Los Angeles police, and did well for a season, finally experienced a falling away from a state of grace to a condition of sin. Jenny was employed in a large establishment in this city as a nurse and displayed great diligence in her calling and considerable aptitude for the work given her to do. This was highly satisfactory to her employers and to the probation officials. Jenny was held up as a fine example of what modern probationary methods can accomplish and was often referred to as a "brand from the burning."

Alas for the hopes of humanity! Temptation assailed the fair Jenny and she fell. The imp of the bottle bewitched her and shortly before Halloween she was found in close confab with "spirits." Clutching her familiar spirit to her bosom, Jenny was taken to Glendale jail from the ditch in which she was lying and after examination was sentenced to fifteen days in the county jail.

VALLEY VIEW

Miss Edaline Benefiel of Waukegan, Ill., who had been visiting a sister in Redlands for some time, stopped off in Glendale last Thursday, while on her way to San Diego, to visit a few days with an old friend, Mrs. L. C. Flutot, 1512 Oak St.

Rev. E. A. Hoskyn of 1504 Colorado, who went up to Woodbine, 300 miles north, a few days ago, to see about taking charge of two small M. E. congregations, has returned home.

He found the project impracticable on account of the long distance from home.

Mark Van Luvén and wife and little Sanford moved last Saturday from 1531 Colorado, where they had lived for six years, to Burbank, where they recently purchased an acre of ground and put up a house.

Samuel Webb and wife, who have been living at 1319 Lomita, went to Los Angeles one day last week to visit a daughter and while there Mr. Webb suffered a bad fall, which has confined him to the house since and his condition is now quite serious.

Adin Gibbs and wife, with their two children, and J. S. Gibbs, Adin's father, all of Lancaster, visited old friends in Glendale and Tropic a few days last week.

Chas. Force of 1563 Pine street fell from a house he was working on at Marion and badly bruised one leg, disabling him for several days.

Senator Smith of Michigan has an opinion of preparedness. Nobody cares what it is.

One proposition seems to have been sustained by the voters, and it was a good proposition, it is plain that people were not voting "no" because of being in an anti humor.

A bitter battle is said to be in progress to free the bomb plotters. Who wants a bomb plotter freed?

There is no substitute "just as good" as sunshine and fresh air, to kill or neutralize disease germs.

Children's Bank Accounts

Teaching children the value of money is a very important part of their education. Thrift does not come at our beck and call, nor can it be slipped on or off like an old coat. It is established by practice rather than theory—by example more than precept.

Girls as well as boys should be encouraged to earn money by real service and both should early learn what banks are for and how money grows when it is planted in the right soil, so to speak.

THE BANK OF GLENDALE encourages children's accounts and pays the largest rate of interest consistent with good banking.

An expert says that telephone girls, in many instances, are real geniuses and suggest improvements in the service or in equipment. The telephone girl, too, is a model in patience and in meritorious doing of her duty, as a rule. Some of her severest critics would not do half so well, in her place.

Pure, wholesome, mutual-affection home life is one of the big foundation stones of American greatness.

Among the many Glendale people who attended the convention of the National Methodist Missionary Society, now in session in Los Angeles, were Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Smart. A part of the convention program yesterday which was of much interest to Glendale people, was the receiving by the society of 35 young women missionary workers, who have volunteered for work in foreign lands.

Mr. and Mrs. P. V. Potter, 154 Pioneer Drive, gave a most enjoyable masquerade Halloween party Saturday night. Twenty-five guests were present. The house was beautifully decorated with pumpkins and sunflowers and the usual Halloween ornaments and symbols. Games were played and music made the evening merry. Mrs. J. B. Winter got the prize for guessing the most of the names of those in mask. Mrs. A. R. Tyler got first prize for the best costume. She was dressed as a colored bride.

WHEN GHOSTS MAKE MERRY

The home of Miss Marie Oliver, 1314 Central avenue, was the scene of a masquerade Halloween party Saturday evening, when witches, ghosts and goblins held full sway. The twenty guests on their arrival found the home transformed with Halloween colors and symbols, and the lawn lit with Japanese lanterns which cast a subdued and weird glow appropriate to the night. Games were enjoyed out-of-doors, a huge bonfire adding to the delight of the guests. A witch's tent proved a mecca for all and this weird personage displayed a surprising knowledge of the personalities of those who consulted her. Halloween games and surprises were enjoyed in the house and in the midst of these the invasion of a white clad company from the spirit world sent the guests shrieking in all directions and nearly broke up the party. Music and dancing were enjoyed during the evening and refreshments were served. The guests departed with many expressions of pleasure to the gracious hostess and went home to spend the remainder of the night in fitful slumber, with dreams of ghosts, goblins and witches.

ST. MARK'S EPISCOPAL CHURCH

Rev. C. Irving Mills, D. D., Rector.

Members of Glendale Lodge B. P. O. E. No. 1289 attended the 11 o'clock service yesterday in a body. The whole service was an excellent one, the music by the robed choir was especially fine, and the sermon by Dr. Mills was listened to with marked attention by the large congregation.

Today is "All Saints' Day" and a Holy Communion service was held at 10:30 a. m. In the afternoon at 2:30 the Altar Guild met with Mrs. Brown, 404 W. Third street. Tuesday there will be a Vestry meeting in the Parish hall at 8:00 p. m.

Wednesday the Woman's Guild will hold their regular meeting in the Guild hall for an all-day session, with a basket lunch at noon. The Men's club will meet Wednesday at 8 p. m. Brand Blvd. Miss Cockran, missionary from Japan, will address the meeting. Members and all church women are cordially invited to be present. Friday evening at 8 o'clock the choir will hold one of their parties at the residence of Mrs. Herald, 1218 W. Ninth street.

MISSIONARY AT M. E. CHURCH

Declaring that it costs $3500 to kill a single soldier in the present war and that for an infinitesimal part of this outlay a convert to Christianity could be secured in Buddha-worshipping India, Miss Daisy Woods, of Calcutta, India, yesterday made an eloquent plea for funds with which to carry on missionary work in an address before a large audience at the Glendale M. E. church.

Miss Woods, who is an attaché of the Methodist Episcopal Mission school at Calcutta, said that thousands of converts to Christianity were being lost every year because the missionary societies in India lacked even sufficient money to carry on baptismal work.

"Every year several thousand persons have come to us and asked that they be baptized," declared Miss Woods. "These applicants are Buddhists who are coming to realize the fallaciousness of idol worship. We are unable to baptize them because of the lack of mission workers and funds with which to carry on the necessary instruction work. As a result many of those who would otherwise become Christians have turned to Mohammedanism."

HALLOWE'EN FESTIVITIES

Black cats, goblins and witches gave a grotesque and bewitching air to the Halloween party given by the Misses Cecilia Lyon, Muriel Turner, Helen Svenson and Hazel Flower at the home of the latter, 730 S. Adams St., on Saturday evening. Games and dancing were enjoyed throughout the evening. At a late hour refreshments were served by the hostesses. The young folks who enjoyed the evening were: The Misses Esther Schremp, Waunita Emery, Margaret Lusby, Jeanette McClellon, Ernestine Lyon, Mana Butler, Florence Heacock, Margaret Boucher, Catherine Renshaw, Mildred Svenson and Anna May Flower, and the Messrs. Wm. Cronen, Victor Harris, Vern Nymman, Howard McGillis, Wm. Rees, Homer Crochero, Edwin Heacock, Wm. Bode, Frank Hester, Earl Brown, Olin Wilson and Floyd Stokes. The out-of-town guests were, Miss Joyce Dominy of Los Angeles and Mr. Robert Cowlin of Pasadena.

FAMILY REUNION

A family reunion was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Francy, 308 S. Kenwood St., Wednesday evening, Oct. 27, 1915. In the center of the large and spacious dining room was the dinner table, beautifully decorated with flowers and ferns, around which sat Mr. and Mrs. Francy with their children; Wilber P. Francy and wife, Mrs. Maude Shelton and husband from Chicago, Mrs. Blanche Nunn and husband, Mrs. Mae S. Staub and husband, Harry E. Francy, Mark C. Francy, Victor E. Francy, Eloise G. Francy; and three grand-children, Roma, Merle and Kenneth Staub; also Mr. and Mrs. Pellit, and Mr. and Mrs. Stewart, from West Point, Iowa, who are now visiting their daughter, Mrs. W. P. Francy.

MISSION PLAY WILL CLOSE

Rumors and reports that the Mission Play would continue at San Gabriel during the coming winter are entirely without foundation, according to John Steven McGroarty, author and producer of the play.

Because of the decision to continue the Exposition at San Diego, and also in view of the probability that there will be a large influx of Eastern tourists to California during the present winter, it was thought by many people that the Mission Play would extend its season.

But, as stated, there is no foundation for this belief. The Mission Play will positively close at San Gabriel on Dec. 4, next, and will not be seen again in California for a long time to come. Only four weeks now remain for our people to witness the great pageant drama of the missions.

An exchange says they need a real rather than an ideal government in Mexico. The presence of either would be a novelty to the native.

ONE-ARMED, ONE-LEGGED BASEBALL TEAMS

A Los Angeles old soldier of the Civil war wrote a Fulton, Illinois, paper, recalling incidents that happened more than 45 years ago. He says:

"There was 'baseball' then as now, and I think it will be of interest to the Fulton boys to know of two 'nines' we had in the college, who used to play on a vacant lot down near the Junction depot. The college at that time was supported by the state, for the benefit of the young men who went to the War of the Rebellion while they were mere boys and too young to have acquired an education, and boys whose fathers had been killed in the war. The result was that a large percentage of the older students were men who had been wounded in the army.

"One of the 'nines' I refer to was made up entirely of one-armed boys and the other of one-legged boys, and they used to have some great games. Strange as it may seem, the one-legged boys usually won. They would lay their crutches down by the home plate and so had both hands with which to handle the bat. After a strike they would grab their crutches, and the strides they could make were astonishing. The one-armed boys were at a disadvantage in both batting and catching."

MRS. JOURMSKY TO SPEAK

Sidelights on the present European war and comparisons of the three different elements which go toward making up the life of Russia will be the topic of Mrs. E. F. Jourmsky in a talk before members of the Glendale Philharmonic Sewing Circle Tuesday afternoon. The meeting will be held at the club headquarters, 240 South Central avenue, starting at one o'clock. Refreshments will be served. All persons interested in the work being done by the club are invited to be present.

HOLD GRAIN FOR BIG PRICES

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Nov. 1.—Less than one per cent of the gigantic grain crop of the Northwest has reached the market. Four million bushels less grain has been marketed thus far this year than at the same time last year.

Lumber dealers report an unparalleled demand for cheaper lumber, and this coupled with low grain receipts, grain gamblers say, means that the farmers of the Northwest are holding their grain. That the farmer is prepared to hold his grain until he gets $1.25 a bushel for it is a statement often heard.

BROWN AND CURRY IN WHITTIER

Many who made the acquaintance of Brown and Curry while in Glendale will perhaps be glad to know that these well-known evangelists are holding successful meetings at Whittier, Cal., at the present time.

PREDICTS LOTS OF RAIN THIS WINTER

S. V. Rehart, the Lakeview, Oregon, prognosticator, has issued a general winter forecast to the effect that the farmers need not worry about rains this season. He says there is going to be plenty of it. His prediction follows:

According to my method of forecasting the weather, the spring and summer up to July 15 indicated a dry year. Even since, the indications point to a wet year.

Specifically, the character of the season for 1915 and 1916 for the Pacific coast should be dry fall with only light precipitation until about the month of December, when the winter storms begin and continue light with numerous heavy storms and precipitation considerably above the normal for the season.

In the mountain and plateau regions of the coast many indications point to a severe winter, and especially if the precipitation should be snow.

In harmony with my last year's forecast, California had considerable more than normal precipitation, while Oregon and Washington (I am informed) had less than normal precipitation, a very unusual weather condition for the Pacific coast.

In all probability the Northwest Pacific will receive its full share of precipitation this season.

TEACHERS AND PARENTS MEET

Teachers of the Intermediate school tomorrow night will endeavor to get into touch with parents of pupils attending the school at a meeting to be held under the auspices of the Parent-Teachers' association. The meeting tomorrow night will be held in place of the annual reception to the teachers.

Because it will afford opportunity for co-operation between teachers and parents, all fathers and mothers of youngsters in the Intermediate school are urged to attend the meeting.

In addition to an informal "get together" session an entertainment program of Halloween games will characterize the meeting. The meeting is scheduled to open at 8 o'clock tomorrow night.

TROPICO

Wednesday evening, November 10, is the date that has been selected by the Tropico Thursday Afternoon club when "Si Slocum's Country Store," under the direction of Mrs. Wayland Brown, will be produced. This farce is a realistic "take-off" and will represent Frank Davis' store and the Tropico postoffice, located on San Fernando boulevard. One of the features of this show will be the sight-seeing car through Tropico. The cast that will provide this show includes some of the best local talent that appeared so successfully in "Just Out of College" and "Polly of the Circus." With Mrs. Wayland Brown as director, "Si Slocum's Country Store" will be the hit of the season.

Miss Elizabeth Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Smith of 143 West Tenth street, left for Texas, her native state, Saturday afternoon, for an extended visit. In Dallas, Texas, Miss Smith will be the house guest of a number of her former schoolmates, and will be accorded a welcome and cordial hospitality that will manifest how well remembered she is by her old time friends. Miss Smith, who will be absent until after the holidays, was accompanied by her father, M. F. Smith, as far as El Paso, where after a brief visit he will return to Arizona and investigate some of his numerous business enterprises in that state. Mr. Smith, who is a prominent railway official in Los Angeles, has numerous friends in Arizona who will also render his business trip there one of pleasure as well.

Mrs. Louise Purnell of West Tenth street motored to Redlands Sunday, where she spent the day at the home of her friend, Mrs. Nellie Smith, who is reported as being quite seriously ill.

Miss Elsie Anderson of Virginia Place has recently become a member of the choir of the First Methodist Episcopal Church of Los Angeles. Miss Anderson, who possesses a very sweet soprano voice of excellent range, will be very much missed from the choir of the First Methodist Episcopal church of Tropico, where she has been leading soprano for several years.

The You and I club observed Halloween by giving a party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Van Etten on El Bonito avenue, Saturday evening. Mrs. Van Etten was assisted by Ida Meyers, and the evening's program was one suggestive of Halloween and its many mysteries.

Mrs. Wayland Brown was the gracious hostess for the You and I club recently, when Drama Day was observed. Mrs. Brown gave a most interesting and clever interpretation of the new play, "The Boomerang," now running so successfully in New York. The program was very cleverly interspersed by several piano solos rendered by Mrs. Edgar Frye.

WOMEN'S VOTES IN ILLINOIS

"What women's votes have done and can do to better conditions in Illinois" was the principal subject for discussion by delegates to the state convention of the Illinois Equal Suffrage association in Peoria, Ill., today. All sorts of politicians have been invited to attend and tell the women what they think about suffrage.

The raising of a "liberty fund," for the purpose of gaining full suffrage for the women of Illinois will be proposed. The plan is to start getting money now so when the campaign for constitutional amendment, either through a constitutional convention or by direct amendment passed by the legislature, is at hand, the state suffrage association will be financially prepared to carry it through to a successful conclusion.

Experience in other states where the campaign for the ballot has suffered through lack of funds has led the officials of the Illinois association to this forehanded move.

PETITION BEING CHECKED UP

The recall petition against city officials, the appearance of which has been waited for some time, will be filed with the city clerk the latter part of this week, according to a declaration made by T. W. Doyle, 891 South Glendale avenue, today. According to Mr. Doyle the names on the petition are now being checked off and verified on the great county register, preparatory to its being filed.

The petition is said to bear more than 500 names, which is over 150 more than is necessary. If an extra election is called the city will be put to an additional expense. The policy of the Evening News is to cut out all unnecessary expenses. It is only a few months until the date of the annual city election, at which time there will be ample opportunity to make all the changes the voters of Glendale may desire to make.

CONSTITUTIONAL CHANGES

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 1.—New York's voters will decide tomorrow whether they approve the new constitution written by the Constitutional convention. Principal proposed changes are:

Vesting of the responsibility and authority of the state's government principally in the governor; short ballot, electing only four officials, simplified court procedure, serial bond system for state debt, unified tax system under state board; compensation for workers suffering from occupational diseases, prohibition of manufacturing in tenement houses, limitation of greater New York to one-half of the state's senatorial representation, home rule for cities and counties, increase of governor's salary from $10,000 to $20,000 and of legislators from $1,500 to $2,500, promotion of efficiency in the state militia. The legislative referendum proposing a $27,000,000 appropriation for completion of the barge canal also will be voted upon.

EVERY FRIDAY WILL BE SUNDAY TO MUSSWEILER

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 1.—E. A. Mussweiler will observe Sunday on Friday after today. He wishes to comply with the state law effective today, requiring all delicatessen stores to close on Sunday. The law provides that where a man observes some day other than Sunday as his Sabbath, he may work on Sunday. "I decided on Friday as a day of rest because little meat is sold on that day," said Mussweiler.

OFF YEAR ELECTION IS BEING HELD IN JERSEY

TRENTON, N. J., Nov. 1.—Interest in the off year election in New Jersey, which occurs tomorrow, centers mainly in the fight for control of the next legislature, which on joint ballot will elect a state treasurer. A Democrat, Edward E. Grosscup, the present treasurer, is chairman of the State Democratic committee.

In the next legislature there will be the making and breaking of booms for governor and United States senator, offices which are to be filled in 1916.

SHAKESPEARE CLUB ENTERTAINS

More than a half hundred guests at the Halloween party given by the ladies of the Glendale Shakespeare club last Friday evening are complimenting Mrs. Coral Harrison Sloan, president of the club, upon her exceptional histrionic ability. In a presentation of the "Witch Scene" from Macbeth, and in another, the "Ghost Scene" from Hamlet, Mrs. Sloan not only showed her ability as a dramatic reader, but also as an actress of no mean ability.

The entertainment, given Friday evening was by the women of the Shakespeare club to their husbands and was held at the Sloan home, 1550 Myrtle street. In addition to the two scenes from Shakespeare's works, several choice musical numbers were on the program.

The scene from Macbeth was not only unique but sufficiently "creepy" to make it an unusually good Halloween subject. Characters in the scene were taken by children of club members, who portrayed the roles in pantomime. From behind a screen Mrs. Sloan delivered the lines of each character, utilizing ventriloquism. In the Ghost scene from Hamlet Mrs. Sloan, in the role of "Hamlet" was assisted by Miss Dorothy Bonnell and George M. Harrison.

Miss Lillian Mason of Glendale and Miss Phoebe Armstrong of Tropico won much applause with musical numbers. Following the entertainment program refreshments were served.

The guests were: Mesdames C. W. Houston, E. Ledbetter, G. M. Harrison, Myra Bonnell, Irene Welchmann, E. Chappella, B. Kard, Calvin Whiting, Opal Greenwalt, A. R. Dimmick, F. Burway, G. R. Roach, Frank Peters, Helfenstein, M. R. Mason, J. W. Cousins, W. R. Heustis, F. C. Rochester, A. S. Rochester and Armstrong, and Misses Phoebe Armstrong, May Eby and Miss Carter; Messrs. C. W. Houston, G. M. Harrison, E. Chappella, B. Ward, Calvin Whiting, A. R. Dimmick, Frank Budway, G. D. Roach, Frank Peters, E. H. Sargent, F. C. Rochester, Dr. A. S. Rochester, Wm. Sloan, John T. Jenkins, Eugene Sahlin, Wm. Justema, Kenneth Cousins.

The next meeting of the club will be held Nov. 10 at 10 o'clock a. m. at the home of the president, Mrs. Sloan.

The children of the club members assisting in the program were: Misses Mildred McKee, Margaret Lou Ledbetter, Gertrude Coward, Lillian Mason, Dorothy Brown, Constance Damsler, Dorothy Bonnell, Geo. Meldo Harrison, Jr., Billy Harrison, Jack Jenkins, Elizabeth Mason, Dorothy Bonnell and Billy Justema.

ROAD BONDS FAIL

While the good roads bond issue, under which it was intended to build among other highways some very extensive and expensive mountain roads, failed to carry at the election this week, the progress of Los Angeles county's road improvement work will doubtless not be curtailed. Other ways of financing a considerable mileage of much needed roads connecting with the already extensive and excellent county highway system, will be found. The chairman of the board of supervisors has announced that he favors continuing with the construction of the Mint Canyon road which will give access to the Antelope Valley country, part of which is now under construction. The supervisors this week awarded a contract for another link in this highway, what is known as the Palmdale-Lancaster road, and the remaining thirty miles of road through the Mint Canyon will probably be built out of the general fund. Other desirable roads which are of more practical than scenic value will be constructed under the assessment plan. But the two costly mountain roads north from Pasadena through the Arroyo Seco and farther east through San Dimas Canyon, will not be built until the community at large feels that it has more surplus funds than it has at present.

The failure of the road bonds was, however, not an expression of disfavor against further county highway construction—rather a protest against heavier taxation and the advisability of some of the routes proposed. The city of Los Angeles voted three to one against the bonds, while the rest of the county voted two to one. The vote on all issues was extremely light and suggested both apathy and protest against too frequent elections.—Southwest Contractor.

The Baptist Junior Union of Glendale enjoyed a Halloween party Saturday afternoon in the basement of the church. The 35 children came in masks and costumes and made a jolly afternoon with games and refreshments.

GREAT HOBO RESORT BURNS

One of the most spectacular fires for some time occurred Sunday evening when the large vacant house on the San Fernando road, about 1½ miles this side of Burbank, burned to the ground. For a number of years this old residence had been headquarters for hobos and it is supposed that the fire was started by tramps.

PEAT AS A STOCK FOOD

Some interesting uses are being made of peat in the United States. It is manufactured into a fertilizer and employed as a fertilizer filler, according to the United States Geological Survey; it is also used for making paper, stock food, and mud baths. In Germany and Austria peat baths are well-established institutions, and during the last few years such baths have been tried in some of the sanitariums of the Middle West and found beneficial in certain cases. As food for live stock, however, peat seems to have found its most curious use, inasmuch as the kind of peat used is thousands of years old, and although it may still be classed as vegetable in character, it is only a step removed from low-grade coal. As a stock food it is used in a mixture containing molasses. The results are stated to have been very satisfactory in practice, the peat acting as a tonic and corrective. The peat used is the black, well-humified or rotted kind and is prepared in practically the same way as when used for fertilizer. Peat for various purposes was produced last year to the extent of 57,000 tons, valued at $367,000. The peat deposits of the United States are of enormous extent.
